Ordinary working hours, penalty rates and overtime - part time employees

- A part time employee is an employee required to work less than 38 ordinary hours per week.
- Part time employees receive the same wages and conditions as full time employees but on a proportionate basis to the hours they work.
- Before commencing part time employment, the employee and employer must agree upon the usual hours to be worked by the employee, the regular days upon which they will be worked and the expected commencing and finishing times.
- A part time employee must receive a minimum payment of four hours each day worked.
- A part time employee is entitled to be paid for the hours agreed upon, and additional hours to those may be worked by agreement. Part time employees may be offered additional work up to 38 hours per week at ordinary pay.

- Overtime rates are to be paid after completing the number of ordinary hours for a full time employee on any one day or after 38 hours in any one week or outside the spread of ordinary hours as detailed above for full time employees.

Ordinary working hours, penalty rates and overtime - casual employees

- A casual employee is an employee who is employed on the basis that:
  - the employment is casual
  - there is no entitlement to paid leave, except bereavement leave.
- Casual employees must be informed of those conditions of employment before they are employed.
- While working ordinary hours a casual employee must be paid a casual loading of 24%. A minimum payment of four hours pay is to be paid.
- When casual employees are working overtime, or outside of ordinary hours, a separate formula is applied to calculate overtime payments. To calculate the rate of overtime, a 10% loading is added to the hourly rate of pay for a non-casual employee. The resulting amount then forms the casual employee's ordinary rate of pay to be used for overtime calculations (note: the 10% loading replaces the 24% casual loading for overtime purposes). For example, if overtime is being paid at time and one half, the calculation would be:

$$\text{Casual overtime payment} = (\text{hourly rate of pay for non-casual employee} + 10\%) \times 1.5$$

Meal breaks

- Every employee must be allowed each day a meal break of not less than 30 minutes or more than one hour, to commence at any time between the end of the third and end of the fifth hour of the day's employment.
- An employee whose meal break is postponed for more than half an hour must be paid at overtime rates until released for a meal.

- Employers must keep all employment records for at least seven years after they are made for both current and past employees. Records relating to long service leave must be kept for seven years from the date employment ends.
- Employers can be fined up to $5,000 by the Industrial Magistrates Court for not keeping employment records or for keeping inadequate or fraudulent records. A common requirement that employers fail to observe is a lack of detail in keeping employment records.
- Employers must keep records that detail:

  - Total number of hours worked each week
  - The gross and net amounts paid to the employee

  - Any other information necessary to prove that the wages received by an employee comply with the requirements of the Transport Workers (General) Award, such as overtime hours worked and allowances paid. Contact Wageline or view the full Transport Workers (General) Award on the WA Industrial Relations Commission website www.wairc.wa.gov.au for details.
- Employment records can be written or electronic as long as they are in a form that can be printed. Time and wage books can be used to keep employment records, however, it is the employer's responsibility to ensure the time and wage book includes all of the required information.
- The records must be in English.
- Wageline's record keeping templates help small business employers meet their legal obligations for time and wages record keeping and keep accurate employee leave records.

Payslips

- Visit the Record keeping requirements page for Wageline's payslip and record keeping templates.

Public holidays

- Full time employees are entitled to public holidays (or days substituted for public holidays) without deduction of pay. Part time employees are entitled to public holidays (or days substituted for public holidays) without deduction of pay if they would ordinarily be required to work on that day.
- If a public holiday falls on a Saturday or Sunday, the following Monday will be considered to be the public holiday. However, if Boxing Day falls on a Sunday or Monday, the following Tuesday will be considered to be the public holiday. When a public holiday is substituted with another day, the public holiday itself is no longer considered a public holiday for the purposes of the award.
- Hours worked on a public holiday or substituted holiday must be paid at the rate of double time and a half and employees must receive a minimum of four hours pay.
- By agreement in writing between any employee and their employer work may be performed on any of the public holidays at time and a half in which case an additional day must be added to the Annual Leave for each day so worked.

Bereavement leave

- All employees, including casual employees, are entitled to two days paid bereavement leave on the death of a spouse, de facto partner, parent, step-parent, grandparent, child, step-child, grandchild, sibling or any other member of the employee's household. The 2 days need not be consecutive. Bereavement leave is an entitlement from the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993.

Parental leave

- Employees, including eligible casual employees, are entitled to the unpaid parental leave entitlements in the National Employment Standards of the Fair Work Act 2009, as well as a number of more beneficial conditions contained in the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 (a return to work after parental leave on a modified basis and a reversion to pre-parental leave working conditions). Visit the Parental leave page for more details.

Sick and carer's leave

- Sick and carer's leave entitles a full time or part time employee to paid time off work due to either illness or injury to themselves (sick leave), or because they have to care for an ill or injured family or household member (carer's leave).
- Full time and part time employees are entitled to paid sick and carer's leave equal to the number of hours they would ordinarily work in a two week period, up to 76 hours per year. Sick and carer's leave is a cumulative entitlement, and any leave not taken in one year can be carried over to the next year.
- Sick and carer's leave accrues on a weekly basis for full and part time employees.
- In the first year of employment, a full time or part time employee can use any paid sick and carer's leave that they have accrued to date for caring purposes.
- In the second and subsequent years of employment, a full time employee can only use a maximum of 76 hours of their accrued sick leave entitlement for caring purposes, or a part time employee the relevant proportion of 76 hours based on their ordinary hours of work.
- An employee is entitled to up to two days of unpaid carer's leave per occasion if an employee does not have sufficient paid leave accrued or has exceeded the maximum amount of carer's leave that can be taken in any 12 month period.
- Casual employees are not entitled to paid sick leave or paid carer's leave. Casual employees can access up to two day's unpaid carer's leave per occasion.

Long service leave

- Full time, part time and casual employees are entitled to long service leave (LSL).
- Long service leave is an entitlement from the Long Service Leave Act 1958.
- The length of continuous employment for an employee's long service leave entitlement is based on the total time with the business, rather than any one employer. An employer who buys a business or part of a business will take on the long service leave obligations for existing employees if there has been a transmission of business. This applies regardless of anything written in the sale contract.

Amount of continuous employment with same business	Amount of leave
After 10 years of continuous employment	8 <sup>2/3</sup> weeks
For every 5 years of continuous employment after this initial 10 years	4 <sup>1/3</sup> weeks
When an employee is terminated (except for serious misconduct) or resigns after they have completed between 7 and 10 years continuous employment	The employee is entitled to be paid out for LSL on a proportionate basis. LSL payment is worked out on a pro-rata basis for the entire period of employment, including years, months and days
When an employee is terminated or resigns after they	The employee is entitled to be paid out for LSL. LSL

Amount of continuous employment with same business	Amount of leave
have worked continuously for 10 or more years	payment is worked out on completed years of service only

- An employee who has completed a full qualifying period of service (e.g. 10 years) is entitled to be paid out their full long service leave entitlement (e.g. 8 <sup>2</sup>/<sub>3</sub> weeks) on termination, regardless of the circumstances of the termination.
- Where an employee has a period of service that is less than the full qualifying period and they were terminated by their employer for serious misconduct, they are not entitled to pro rata LSL.
- Visit the Long Service Leave page for more details and a calculation guide.
- Wageline's record keeping templates include a long service leave record template.

Annual leave

- Full time employees are entitled to a minimum of four weeks of paid annual leave for each year of completed service, up to 152 hours. Part time employees are entitled to a minimum of annual leave of four weeks per year paid on a pro rata basis according to the number of hours they are required ordinarily to work in a four week period. Casual employees are not entitled to annual leave.
- Annual leave is a minimum entitlement in the Minimum Conditions of Employment Act 1993 and the Transport Workers (General) Award sets out additional requirements regarding annual leave and annual leave loading.
- During a period of annual leave an employee must be paid annual leave loading of 17.5%.
- On termination, annual leave loading of 17.5% is paid out on fully accrued annual leave entitlements for completed years of employment. Annual leave loading is not paid on proportionate leave (leave accrued in an incomplete year of employment) on termination.
- Annual leave accrues on a weekly basis:
  - A full time employee accrues 2.923 hours of annual leave for each completed week of work.
  - A part time employee accrues the relevant proportion of 2.923 hours annual leave for each completed week of service.
  - Visit Wageline's Annual leave Calculation Guide to work out annual leave entitlements.
  - Wageline's record keeping templates include an annual leave record template.

Resignation, termination and redundancy

Termination

- An employer must wherever practicable notify a casual employee if services are not required the next working day.
- Except in cases of serious misconduct, an employer is required to give full time and part time employees the following period of notice of termination (or payment in lieu):

Period of continuous service	Notice period
Not more than 1 year	1 week
More than 1 year but not more than 3 years*	2 weeks
More than 3 years but not more than 5 years*	3 weeks
More than 5 years*	4 weeks

*Employees over 45 years of age with two or more years of continuous service must receive an additional week's notice.

Redundancy

- An employee is redundant when their employer has made a definite decision that they no longer wish the job the employee has been doing to be done by anyone.
- An employer has a number of obligations in redundancy situations and may be required to pay severance pay. Visit the Redundancy page for redundancy obligations.

Dismissal requirements

- Under state laws, employees cannot be dismissed if to do so would be harsh, unfair or oppressive. There must be a valid and fair reason for dismissal, such as:
  - consistent unsatisfactory work performance (which has been raised with the employee and the employee given further training and an opportunity to improve their work performance)
  - inappropriate behaviour or actions
  - serious misconduct.
- The Dismissal information page outlines obligations and requirements when an employee is terminated.

Resignation by the employee

- Full time and part time employees are to provide the same notice as required of the employer (outlined in the table above) except that there is no additional notice based on the age of the employee.
- The employer and employee may agree to a shorter notice period to suit individual circumstances.
